

PRESSEMITTEILUNG

Berlin, 31.05.2016

call a midwife - the new online portal for pregnant women and postnatal care.

Midwives breaking the mould.

call a midwife is an international, online, face-to-face consultation Portal for pregnant women and young families during their first year after the birth.

Women who have questions or need a consultation - before or after the birth - can easily get in personal and private contact with one of our midwives (via computer, smartphone or tablet, Skype or Google Hangouts).

Any time, anywhere, 365 days a year.

Currently, advice is offered in English, German, Russian and Turkish. Other languages will follow, including Arabic and Spanish. All midwives are native speakers.

Our midwives have a multitude of practical experience and will quickly and easily give advice in personal conversations (via video chat), on all matters relating to the birth of the child. Consultation services range from antenatal care & labour to postnatal care, breastfeeding, complementary feeding and partnership & family.

Booking a call with a midwife is very easy. Click on the page, choose the midwife and make an appointment. At present, we offer two options: a 30-minute consultation for €39 or a package of four 30-minute consultations for €119 - Extras included.

"Our offer is aimed primarily at women and families outside of Germany", says Sabine Kroh, founder of this new start-up from Berlin.

The German midwifery care system is recognised worldwide as being exceptional. Kroh, who has 25 years of experience, frequently receives inquiries from pregnant women, young mothers and families from all around the world.

Over the past year there have been more and more requests from women and families from Berlin asking for help and advice for friends who live in countries where it is more difficult to obtain advice from midwives.

"I have had chats, via Skype, with ladies and families from Cape Town, New York, Budapest, Kiev and London," says Sabine Kroh. "With call a midwife I will expand this way of working and ensure that all advice is given professionally".

Of course, women and families who live within Germany can also take advantage of this new service
